

Mastering Performance

The Mercedes-Benz Driving Academy is coming in October to LeCircuit Mont Tremblant.

TriStar Mercedes along with Mercedes-Benz Canada and the Mercedes-Benz Driving Academy are pleased to announce another round of Mastering Performance at Circuit Mont Tremblant October 4th, 2010. Each day is limited to a Maximum of 12 Participants with 12 different MB models including the C63, so maximum seat time is ensured. This program is designed for the novice and enthusiast alike. There are no pre-requisites needed to take this course. It is a full day program that is conducted on purpose-built race tracks throughout the country. Registration and breakfast starts at 8:30 am, and the day wraps up at 4:30 pm. Helmets are provided for all participants and are used for most of the day.

The objective of this program is to teach advanced driving techniques and apply them in a race track environment. This is not a "racing" course, it is a High Performance driving course. Drivers will learn advanced techniques and how critical elements such as vision, weight transfer and the use of controls ultimately affect traction and, therefore, the vehicles' behavior.

Circuit Mont Tremblant is regarded as one of the finest racing circuits in North America and has seen some of the greatest names in racing drive their way around this demanding layout. Famous names like Villeneuve, Andretti, Stewart, Moss, Ickx, Rahl, and Tracy have all raced here on what Michael Schumacher described as the Little Nurburgring.
